Folacomp PA, compressible Underpacking, self-adhesive

The Folacomp range was specifically developed for use underneath Folacoat coating plates and offers a wide range of thicknesses of underpacking containing a high percentage of compressible components. The content of smash-sensitive fabrics is considerably reduced in comparison with conventional compressible rubber underpacking blankets. The large number of thicknesses available makes it possible to use just one layer of underpacking in combination with the respective Folacoat coating plate. Packings made up of several sheets of paper belong to the past. The Folacomp PA is a self-adhesive version of the standard compressible underpacking. To improve its dimensional stability and increase the service life, the compressible underpacking material is reinforced with a dimensionally stable polyester foil.
